

Riff

Riff is a website for musicians to link up, collaborate, and network with nearby or likeminded muscians.

Intuitive Collaboration

On Riff, users can find themselves in new groups of likeminded artists, where they can collaborate, share ideas, and locate each other. As a networking app, Riff is limited in scope, but helps to bring together a group of people who thrive on collaboration. Riff users can expect to find each other, both by location and similar tastes in music, create group conversations with fellow artists, and build an online personas in a fluid, interconnecting way.

Comps

Users

Adam, a 34 year old piano player who wants to find new people to jam with

Rachel, a 22 year old aspiring music producer who wants new clients and inspiration

Jamie, a 28 year old session muscians who trying to find producers to work with